Nation's Lawmakers Dream Up New Idea To Avert Depression

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
Washington, May 27 (P)—Congress has a new idea for averting a depression. But present prospects are the lawmakers won't do any more than study it this year.

"Unless we really get into bad times," said Senator Elbert D. Thomas (D-Utah), one of the sponsors of the plan.

The idea is outlined in a bill which Senator Murray (D-Mont.) announced last yesterday will be introduced soon by him and seven other Democratic senators.

One of the sponsors said privately that at this point the bill has no official administration blessing, but might get it later.

The bill, as Murray put it, "seeks to provide economic stability and that steady growth and expansion required to maintain prosperity and avoid depression."

He added:

"In view of the present disturbed economic situation and the unsettled future, I believe this measure is of first importance in maintaining public confidence."

The program is designed to supplement the machinery of the employment act of 1946, which also was aimed at keeping the nation's economy on an even keel.

Public Works Included
The new bill would create a national economic cooperation board to work with the president's council of economic advisers. The council was established by the 1946 law.

Known as the economic expansion act of 1949, the new bill has no provision for government operation of any business enterprise. The measure provides for:

1. A program of encouraging private production and investment, particularly in the fields of critical industrial materials and in economically "underdeveloped" and "declining" geographical areas. The program calls for tax incentives, credit insurance and government loans, use of federal war plants; government construction of plants for sale or lease to private companies, special aids for small businesses, and investigation of "monopolistic restrictions" on private investment.

2. Advance planning, by the states and local governments, of not less than $15,000,000,000 worth of non-federal public works projects. The federal government would advance funds for engineering and keeping such plans up to date.

3. A continuous survey of unemployment by the labor department. The president could assign government contracts and public works projects to hard-hit areas. The labor department also would be authorized to make non-interest-bearing loans to move individual families from jobless areas to productive ones.

Thomas said the sponsors of the bill hope to get committee hearings started this year. But he added that the crowded legislative calendar makes it unlikely either the Senate or the House will act on the measure until 1950 unless the economic bottom falls out.

Zeigler will officiate at formal ceremonies July 30 when Charlevoix dedicates its new bascule bridge over the Pine river as a war memorial to local men killed in World War II. Railway Traffic Kept Tied Up By Berlin Strikers

Berlin, May 27 (P)—The full impact of the Berlin rail strike, making a gigantic mess of transport, struck groggy Berliners in the bread-basket today.

Here is the situation as of now:

1. Not one railroad wheel moved from west Germany toward Berlin and the city's freight yards are a vast graveyard of stalled cars.

2. The western sectors began to dip into their backlog of three weeks food supply maintained by the allied airlift, once again the chief source of supply for the harried city. The airlift never stopped after the lifting of the Russian blockade. The western allies were waiting to see what happened, and the 8,000 tons a day coming in now showed the decision was wise.

3. Western allies insisted that the bitter stand-off between the Independent Railworkers union and the Soviet-controlled management was a German matter. They refused to do anything which would look like strike-breaking.

The Russians said nothing. This was an impasse for the west which appeared worse than any the Russians may have dreamed up when they imposed the blockade last June.

The Reichsbahn—the Soviet-controlled elevated rail management— notified the allies of the west it was sending in repair crews, implying it wanted protection for such crews.

This raised the fear of a revival of the riotous battles which raged between strikers and Communist strikebreakers early in the week, taking two lives.

If any one, allied or German, was making a move to settle the dispute, it was not immediately apparent. The Americans stopped all Berlin-bound trains at the Soviet zone border in Helmstedt.

The Americans and British stopped all passenger runs. The 110-mile single track stretch from Helmstedt through the Soviet occupation zone to Berlin is a solid line of stalled trains.

The strikers held the switches and signals in the western sector railroads and refused to allow traffic to move in any direction.

The airlift roared monotonously overhead but its supplies guaranteed only a bare existence for the west. Berliners, without some supplies which would be necessities elsewhere. Hundreds of tons of goods in the supply trains rotted, meanwhile.

Senate Seeks Slash In Foreign Aid Cash

Economy Bloc Says House Didn't Cut Enough

By DON WHITEHEAD
Washington, May 27 (P)—The so-called Molotov plan for eastern Europe, acclaimed as Russia's answer to the Marshall plan, is now being dismissed by diplomatic authorities here as a failure.

They base their conclusion on bits and pieces of evidence on economic conditions in the Russian satellite countries. These countries seem to be running into serious difficulties which can be relieved only if they are able to get large quantities of goods from the western nations, especially the United States.

American officials blame the plight of these countries on the fact that, in their opinion, the Molotov plan has not paralleled the Marshall plan but has operated in an opposite manner. Instead of pouring recovery goods into eastern Europe, according to their information, Russia has been draining those countries of their resources for its own benefit.

Reports are now reaching here of possible drastic moves by Russia or the satellite countries to try to ease the situation. The most dramatic of these comes from former Czechoslovakian officials now in exile in this country.

These exiles say they have information from Prague that the Communist government, under Moscow direction, plans to put a number of non-Communists into official positions to try to make the whole regime more acceptable to the United States and other western countries.

School Treasurer Accused Of Using Funds To Buy Farm

Mason, Mich., May 27 (P)—Hallie E. Harkness, former treasurer of the Driver school district, awaited sentence today after being found guilty on embezzlement charges by a circuit court jury Thursday.

Judge Marvin J. Salmon delayed sentence pending a probation report. Prosecutor Charles R. MacLean charged that more than $14,000 in school funds have been improperly transferred to Harkness' bank account. The prosecutor claimed part of the money was used to buy a farm at Eaton Rapids.

Harkness said the money was deposited in his account through error. He testified that he later transferred part of the money back to the school account after he discovered the error.

Big Tourist Season Seen For Michigan

Lansing, May 27 (P)—If public interest is any indication, Michigan should have a booming year in the tourist business, John Gray, secretary of the Michigan tourist council reported today.

Gray based his report on the number of queries prompted by the council's national advertising campaign to attract tourists to Michigan. He said requests for information were well above the number received by the same time last year.

Jake Bird Dodges Death Noose Again

Convicted Ax-Killer Gets Stay Of 30 Days

Walla Walla, Wash., May 27 (P)—Jake Bird avoided the gallows again today.

Twelve hours before he was to be executed at the Washington State penitentiary, the 48-year-old Negro received word the ninth circuit court of appeals at San Francisco had granted a 30-day stay for a hearing on whether an appeal can be heard.

This is the third time since his conviction a year and a half ago that Jake has left the hangman holding the hemp. He is under sentence to hang for the ax-slaying of Mrs. Bertha Kludt, of Tacoma, Oct. 31, 1947. Her daughter was also killed.

Previously postponed execution dates were Jan. 16, 1948, and Jan. 14, 1949.

Judge William Denman of the ninth circuit court granted the stay after receiving a petition from Bird. Bird contends his confession in the Tacoma slaying was forced from him by third-degree tactics.

Previously Bird had steered his case to a dozen courts, including the United States supreme court twice—in an effort to gain an appeal.

Since his arrest, the transient has admitted taking part in or having knowledge of more than two score killings in several states.

And on the day he was sentenced, Bird pronounced a "hex" on those involved in his conviction. Five key figures in the case have died since that day.

Union Turns Down Ford Peace Offer In 23-Day Strike

Detroit, May 27 (P)—A company peace bid to settle the 23-day Ford strike was rejected today by the CIO-United Auto Workers.

Ford's proposal covered arbitration of work standards on disputed assembly lines in two struck plants.

It was concerned only with whether work standards impair the "health or safety" of employees, in line with the Ford-UAW contract.

The union has insisted that the powers of the arbitration be limited to whether the company has the right to work employees in excess of 100 per cent of "normal work standards."

Bridges Surrenders In San Francisco On Perjury Charges

San Francisco, May 27 (P)—Harry Bridges is expected to surrender today on federal conspiracy and perjury charges.

The Australian-born, leftwing labor leader flew here yesterday from New York. He and two of his aides have been indicted by a federal grand jury which accused them of fraud in Bridges' naturalization in 1945.

Bridges is president of the CIO International Longshoremen and Warehousemen's Union. He is accused of making false statements in swearing he was not a Communist and of conspiring with the other two to defraud the government when he took out his naturalization papers.

Defense Folds Up In World's Fourth Largest Metropolis

Evacuation Fleet Sails To East China Sea

By FRED HAMPSON
Shanghai, May 27 (P)—The red blanket of Communism quietly enveloped all of Shanghai today.

The gunfire ceased. The last Nationalist holdouts surrendered. Veteran troops peacefully carried Red rule into the northern part of the world's fourth largest city.

The Communist occupation was complete three days after it began. Red political officers began taking over the government of the greatest Asian commercial center and its 6,000,000 people.

The Nationalist garrison of Woosung fortress folded up. The government evacuation fleet pulled out, down the Yangtze and into the East China sea.

The ships left behind the Nationalist troops who had failed to make the 10-mile northward march down the Whangpoo river escape corridor from Shanghai to Woosung. How many only the Reds would know after they had rounded them up.

The sharp—but minor—fighting for Shanghai really was over last night. But not until today did the handful of Nationalist rearguards who made the final, mad stand in the heart of the city make up their minds to quit.

For two days they had held the bridges across Soochow creek which flows through downtown Shanghai and into the Whangpoo at the north end of the famous bund. And they held the big modern buildings that commanded the bridge approaches.

Their orders were to hold the bridges, to protect the Shanghai garrison's withdrawal to Woosung.

The senate's resolution to President Truman was introduced by Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.). It had the backing of Senators Ferguson and Vandenberg, Michigan Republicans.

London Court Frees Communist Eisler

Offense Not Extraditable, Magistrate Rules

London, May 27 (P)—Magistrate Sir Laurence Dunne today denied U. S. demands for the return of Gerhart Eisler.

After almost two hours of argument in Bow street court, Dunne said the United States had failed to prove that the fugitive Communist had been convicted of an extraditable offense.

The judge ordered Eisler freed. He said Eisler "no doubt committed the offense for which he was convicted."

"The question is whether he was convicted of an offense in America which is considered both in America and here akin to perjury."

Eisler was convicted in the United States of making false replies to a questionnaire when he sought an exit permit. He also has been convicted of contempt of Congress.

Under sentence on these two convictions, Eisler jumped $23,500 bail in New York and fled as a stowaway aboard the Polish liner Batory, paying his passage later. British police removed him by force at the request of the United States when the ship reached Southampton.

Rahilly, Newberry, New Conservation Commission Chief

Vanderbilt, Mich., May 27 (P)—Joseph P. Rahilly of Newberry was elected new chairman of the conservation commission today.

A veteran of 15 years service on the commission, Rahilly is the oldest remaining member in point of service. He succeeds Donald B. McLouth of Detroit, chairman for the past two years.

Conservation Director P. J. Hoffmaster and Commission Secretary Wayland Osgood were appointed.

Quincy Men Killed In Head-On Crash

Quincy, Mich., May 27 (P)—Two Quincy men, both naval veterans, were killed in a head-on crash with an auto transport truck last night.

The victims were Kenneth L. Turrell, 22, and James L. Piper, 22.

Their car was hit by a truck driven by Lee R. Pinkston, Kan. City, Mo. Pinkston said the lights of the car "just loomed up" in front of him.

Solons Ask Truman To Order Out FBI In Reuther Shooting

Detroit, May 27 (P)—Victor Reuther's shooting reverberated yet today in a number of actions—more than 48 hours after a gunman sought his life.

Before President Truman was a request from the United States senate asking him to order the FBI into the case.

The Lutheran church—Missouri Synod—expressed concern and councils of the Inter-American Bar Conference, a western hemisphere group, indicated an interest.

The senate, in a unanimous action, called for Mr. Truman's intervention in a resolution adopted yesterday.

In the absence of evidence of a federal law violation the FBI has stood aloof from the case.

Meager clues meanwhile handicapped Detroit's police experts as they sought the man who fired a shotgun through a window of Reuther's home Tuesday night.

Slim Clues Studied
The 37-year-old CIO United Auto Workers official, who lost his right eye in the blast, remained under medical care in a hospital.

The assault on Victor was almost a duplicate of the unsolved attempt on the life of his brother, Walter, the union president, 13 months ago.

A shotgun charge almost tore off Walter's right arm. He still carries it in a sling.

Police continued with their microscopic examinations of evidence in Victor's shooting.

This dealt with the 12-gauge double-barreled shotgun abandoned in bushes by the assailant and threads of clothing found in the same bushes.

A cast from a heel print was compared with prints found in the yard of a Windsor, Ont., farmhouse where a Canadian member of the auto union, William D. Allen, 37, was killed Sunday night.

Allen's death, also from a shotgun blast through a window, remains unexplained. Investigators have found nothing to connect it with union affairs.

The senate's resolution to President Truman was introduced by Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.). It had the backing of Senators Ferguson and Vandenberg, Michigan Republicans.

State Department Overhaul Relieves Acheson's Burden

By EDWARD E. BOMAR

Washington, May 27 (P)—With five new high officials, the state department today was launched on a major, top-to-bottom administrative overhaul.

The purpose: To increase efficiency and relieve an "intolerable burden" on Secretary Acheson.

President Truman's approval yesterday of sweeping changes authorized by Congress put into effect a reorganization plan along lines recommended by the Hoover commission.

The Hoover commission on government reorganization said three months ago that the Secretary and Undersecretary James E. Webb now bear an "intolerable burden and have little time for thoughtful and considered reflection on foreign affairs problems."

The legislation which Mr. Truman approved provides for the appointment of two of the assistant secretaries to new posts of deputy under secretary.

Assistant Secretary Dean Rusk was named deputy for political affairs and Assistant Secretary John E. Peurifoy deputy, for administration. The other assistants:

American Republic Affairs—Edward G. Miller, 37, New York lawyer.

European Affairs—George W. Perkins, 54, Republican businessman now serving with the economic cooperation administration.

Near Eastern and African Affairs—George C. McGhee, 37, of Waco, Texas, now coordinator for Greek-Turkish aid.

Far Eastern Affairs—W. Walton Butterworth, 45, veteran career diplomat from New Orleans.

United Nations and other international organizations affairs—John D. Hickerson, 31, of Crawford, Tex.

Legal Adviser—Adrian S. Fisher, 35, of Memphis, Tenn., now general counsel of the Atomic Energy commission.

Counselor—George F. Kennan, 45, director of the policy planning staff for the last two years. He was born in Milwaukee.

Beside Rusk and Peurifoy, assistant secretaries Willard L. Thorp, George V. Allen and Ernest A. Gross will remain.

Charles E. Saltzman, a wartime army brigadier general until recently was assistant secretary for occupied areas. He has resigned. His post was abolished earlier this year in the initial stages of the reorganization.

Flaming Lava Kills 17 On Volcano Trip
Cali, Colombia, May 27 (P)—Seventeen persons were killed by flaming lava when they tried to scale an active volcano, it was learned here today.

The group of engineering students led by a professor were on a field trip at Purace, site of the volcano, about 150 miles southwest of Bogota.

Continued eruptions have prevented recovery of the bodies.

Powers Draft New Plans To Unite Reich

By ARTHUR GAYSHON

Paris, May 27 (P)—The western powers have drafted a plan to unify east and west Germany, official sources close to the Big Four foreign ministers said today.

The sources said the western blueprint would be placed before the Russians "in a day or two."

Today—like the past three days—Secretary of State Dean Acheson, French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman and British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin are expected to continue prodding Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky into defining his terms for German unity.

If they fail to obtain the satisfaction they seek, they are expected to spend the weekend re-adjusting their counter offer of German unity.

So far the west has not rejected outright the Russian call for a return to four-power control and for an elected German economic and administrative council.

But they have served notice they want:

1. To turn management of political and economic affairs over to the Germans.

2. To retain supervision only of security, demilitarization, industrial production and foreign policy matters.

3. Russia to understand it cannot expect to receive any more reparations out of west German or all-German current production.

4. To see Russia loosen its grip on the economy of the eastern zone by dissolving all industrial trusts it has acquired and formed in the region.

The official informants said these would be embodied in the western blueprint to be handed in next week. In addition the west is expected to offer the Russians the opportunity to agree to the political reunion of Germany—on western terms.

Previously, extension of the reciprocal trade act had been first on the list, with ratification of the North Atlantic charter second and the Labor bill third. But Lucas said the Foreign Affairs committee is not ready for pact ratification, and the illness of Senator George (D-Ga.), who heads the committee handling the trade measure, may force labor into the top spot.

Other measures on the Truman program include such items as a proposed $4,000,000,000 tax boost, compulsory health insurance, civil rights, social security expansion, and farm legislation.

Appeal Board Hears City Zoning Cases

The Escanaba city board of appeals to hear requests for exceptions to the city zoning ordinance yesterday afternoon heard two cases at city hall, with Chairman Art Jensen presiding.

The problem of constructing a small residence on a triangular lot at Lake Shore Drive and 14th street was brought before the board by Frank Butler, owner of the property. An exception was granted to locate the proposed residence on the north lot line.

The application of the Rev. David L. Cathcart to alter a single-family dwelling at 1223 Ninth avenue south into a two-family house was denied. The location is in a Class A Residence district, where multiple family dwellings are prohibited by the zoning ordinance.

Zimmerman Mine To Close June 1

Caspian — Operations at the Zimmerman mine will be suspended Wednesday, June 1, Harold J. Richards, general superintendent for Pickands, Mather and company, announced yesterday.

Decreased demands for raw materials and general curtailment in the iron ore industry were factors, the announcement said, that prompted the company to close the mine. Richards said that the property would be idle for an indefinite period and also forecast that there may be even further curtailment in the company's operations on the west side.

Some 45 men are affected by the closing of the Zimmerman, which only two weeks ago went on a day-shift basis. At that time 16 employees were laid off.

The 45 men will be dropped from the payroll at three company mines — the Zimmerman, Buck and James — based on seniority service. This announcement was made to the Verona CIO locals.

The men at the Davidson mine, also operated by P-M, will not be affected. It was explained the Davidson is independent of other P-M operations in the district and has its own union.

DALE VINETTE IS CANDIDATE

Businessman Will Seek School Board Seat

Thomas Dale Vinette, Escanaba businessman, who resides at 1713 Tenth avenue south, announced his candidacy this morning for one of the two contested seats on the Escanaba school board.

Vinette's nomination brings to five the number of candidates in the school election June 13. Others are Alfred LaBranche, incumbent, Mrs. N. L. Lindquist, Paul Vardigan and Charles Folio. Vinette, proprietor of the T. D. Vinette company, manufacturers of ornamental and miscellaneous iron products, was graduated from the Escanaba high school in 1933. He served in the U. S. Navy for four years as a chief warrant officer in the Seabees. He saw service in both the Atlantic and Pacific theaters of operation, before his discharge in February, 1946.

He is a member of the Escanaba planning commission, vice president of the Escanaba Junior Chamber of Commerce, a member of the Escanaba Lions club and is also a member of the school building committee of St. Patrick's church. He is married and is the father of three daughters.

Vinette said that his candidacy was prompted by a number of local residents who believe that the board of education should include persons familiar with the construction industry, in view of school building programs being planned by the board.

Tomorrow, Saturday, May 28, has been announced as the last date for registrations for the school election.

ceremony spangled with some of Hollywood's tinsel and the riches of the east.

The ceremony climaxed a 10-month courtship—some called it a roadshow romance—for Rita, 31, and the 38-year-old heir to millions. She has been a Roman Catholic; he is a Moslem.

Cheered by 500 villagers, the couple drove slowly away in a gray Cadillac convertible. A reception heavy with lobsters and champagne awaited at the Chateau de L'Horizon—the prince's house, where he wanted to hold the wedding. (The French government said no).

Rita, who used to be Margarita Cansino of Brooklyn, wore a big picture hat of blue and a blue-Paris-designed gown that came down to the calves of the legs that helped make her famous in the movies.

The Aly Khan, forsaking his sports plaid for the day, wore striped trousers, a double-breasted black jacket, white shirt and grey tie.

Mayor Paul Derigon wore a dark serge suit enlivened by the tricolor sash betokening his office.

The simple civil ceremony—the couple answered "Oui" to questions—was over only eight minutes after the couple arrived. Rita in the big convertible and Aly by a back door.

The ceremony was at 11:16 a. m. (5:16 a. m. Eastern Standard Time), and they left the town hall at 11:32 a. m. It was a double ring ceremony; they put on their rings after Derigon pronounced them man and wife. Then they got their wedding certificate, and emerged into a shower of rice. Rita was carrying two bunches of flowers. She had taken orange blossoms into the town hall and the mayor presented her a bouquet of white roses.

A hot sun shone down on the blue Mediterranean, two miles away.

This was the third marriage for Rita and the second for the prince. He is the heir apparent to leadership of the Ismaili sect of Moslems, now headed by his father, the Aga Khan.

The father and his wife, the begum, witnessed the ceremony and signed a "golden book" made up by the village for the occasion. The Aga Khan was in his familiar white suit and the begum in a blue sari. She is his third wife; his first, Aly's mother, died in 1926, and a divorce ended the second marriage.

The mayor referred to Aly Khan as prince, and addressed the couple as "your highnesses." Rita will be regarded as a princess, at least by her fans and the bluebloods who attended the wedding.

CROP Campaign Is Successful

DELTA county's contributions to CROP, the organization for world food relief, were almost double the quota established for the county, final results have revealed. A total of $3,886.83 was collected in this county. Added significance of Delta county's efforts for this worthy cause is indicated by the fact that Delta county led all Upper Peninsula counties in the CROP campaign.

The contributions in Delta county are broken down as follows: Church World Service, $919.22; Catholic Rural Life, $2,077.34; Lutheran World Relief, $871.27; Undesignated, $19.05.

Total contributions in Michigan follow: Church World Service, $142,336.36; Catholic Rural Life, $49,688.87; Lutheran World Relief, $28,095.08; Undesignated, $112,448.56; Other Organizations, $2,189.36.

The people of Delta county who have contributed so generously to this noble cause upon behalf of the unfortunate people of other lands can feel a deep sense of pride in a job well done.

Hoover Commission Concludes Its Work

THE Hoover commission has wound up its work after two years of thorough investigation of governmental affairs. The commission has filed a series of reports covering various aspects of federal services and has proposed specific reforms designed to improve the efficiency of governmental operation. It has been estimated that the Hoover reforms would save the taxpayers perhaps as much as $3,000,000,000 a year.

In its final report to congress, the 12-man bi-partisan commission headed by the former president declared, "The tremendous financial burden of government on our people today make it imperative that full value be received for the taxpayers' dollar."

The truth of this statement is self-evident. The cost of operating the federal government today is about nine times as much as it was back in the days when Herbert Hoover was president of the United States. The tax burden is terrific and unless all of the water that can possibly be squeezed out of federal budgets is actually squeezed, it is not inconceivable that we may tax ourselves directly into a depression. Dollars that are lifted from pay envelopes to pay the cost of government are dollars not available to buy the essentials and the conveniences of life.

Freeing Labor From Its Masters

ACCORDING to the best opinion, the much-debated Taft-Hartley Act will not be repealed, despite the efforts of the big unions and the support for total repeal given by the executive branch of the government. It is forecast that changes in the law will be made, but these will be of a minor nature for the most part. Some of them will be of a purely technical character, to eliminate ambiguities.

Does this indicate that the present congress is anti-labor, and is not concerned with the welfare of the man who works with his hands? It certainly doesn't. The current congress, like most of its predecessors, is sympathetic to labor's aspirations. At the same time, the charge of labor leaders to the effect that the Taft-Hartley Act is a slave-labor measure simply cannot be substantiated.

Since the law was passed, major labor groups have been given substantial pay raises and other benefits. They have not lost a single, solitary right which can be defended on any reasonable grounds. Of great importance, the law has given the rank and file of union members a far better measure of control over the actions and policies of the unions which they maintain than they ever had before. Under the Wagner Act, the labor leader was a czar, and the working people who paid his salary took orders, or got out. The result was an intolerable amount of ruthlessness and racketeering.

The law, in fact, has done a great deal to free labor from its masters. No one claims it is perfect. But it comes nearer to perfection than anything that preceded it.

AEC Supervision Of Uranium Is Lax

WE don't like to make a mountain out of an ounce of Uranium-235. But the case of the missing atomic material does not appear to reflect credit on the atomic energy commission.

To be sure, six-sevenths of the lost U-235 has been recovered and the search for the other seventh is still going on, hopefully. Even if that seventh is never found, nobody can use it to blow up one of our cities. It would be useful, however, in chemical and physical research.

Here's the record of the case:
On Sept. 16 last year, roughly an ounce of uranium was recorded as part of a shipment placed in a vault at the Argonne laboratory, an atomic research unit near Chicago.

Nearly five months later, on Feb. 8 this year, this material and its container were found to be missing from the vault. Intensive search was begun.

The AEC's Chicago office was notified Feb. 14 and the commission started another inquiry. When AEC's Washington office was informed it was not fixed exactly, but a congressman says it was six weeks after the 14th.

On March 28, 48 days after discovery of the loss, the FBI was called into the case. A month afterward Senator McMahon of Connecticut, head of the joint congressional atomic energy committee, learned of the matter in a secret report apparently withheld from other committee members.

Meantime, careful analysis of processing wastes at the Argonne unit turned up six-sevenths of the missing material. Laboratory officials expect to find the rest the same way.

Commission spokesmen are confident no theft was involved. McMahon says the FBI is satisfied espionage played no role in the mystery.

The joint congressional group nevertheless has undertaken its own independent investigation. This move seems to us thoroughly warranted.

First of all, it is hard to excuse the several delays acknowledged by AEC in reporting the uranium loss to higher levels, especially to the FBI.

Second, no one has explained yet how material kept in a container in a vault could turn up in processing wastes. And the original container has not been found. The amount of uranium involved is admittedly small. Still, Bernard Baruch's plan for world control of atomic materials calls for rigid inspection that would account for every grain. It would make allowance only for tiny processing losses. In the present case, there could be no allowable loss because the material had been stored in a vault.

The AEC's materials accounting system hardly looks fool-proof. Officials say they make periodic inventory checks. Yet in this instance no check was made from mid-September last year until this February.

By the testimony of our scientists, U-235 holds great power both for life and for death. We may be greatly enriched by its most minute quantities. We don't believe this case should encourage any return to military control. We do believe, though, that we have a right to ask the AEC for a near-perfect stewardship over every enterprise associated with atomic energy.

GRIES SHOULD BE RETAINED
(Grand Rapids Press)

Sometime between now and June 30 Gov. Williams will be called on to make an appointment to the state social welfare commission. He could do no better, politically or otherwise, than to reappoint Walter F. Gries, whose term expires on that date.

Gries has been a member of the commission continuously since 1939. He has been reappointed repeatedly because of the fair and non-partisan way he has conducted himself on that body, because of his absorbing interest in welfare problems, and because of his knowledge and experience in the social welfare field.

A resident of Ishpeming and former warden of Marquette prison, Gries unquestionably is one of the best known men in the upper peninsula. And he is one of the best-liked and most respected men in the entire state.

It is understood that Williams is seriously considering giving Gries' post on the commission to Mrs. Margaret Price of Ypsilanti. Mrs. Price was an unsuccessful candidate for auditor general on the Williams ticket last fall. Putting her on the commission would give the Detroit metropolitan area three of the five commission posts, since two of the present members are from Detroit. The upper peninsula would not be represented, although its welfare problems usually are both unique and acute.

Nobody can predict what the months and years immediately ahead may bring, but the fact is that welfare problems recently have been growing more numerous and complex. The governor should not permit Walter Gries to leave the commission at this time.

CAN YOU ANSWER THESE TRICKY QUESTIONS

New Rochelle: Please tell me the plural of "minx." I am told it's "minxes," but it looks queer to me.—Mrs. J. I. S.

A. The correct plural is MINXES, pronounced: MINK-sez. Note. Unless a plural is formed irregularly, as child, children; woman, women; Goose, geese; etc., the dictionaries do not show the plural. Therefore, if the plural of a word is not given, you may safely form it by adding -s or -es, as, boy, boys; house, houses; fox, foxes; minx, minxes, etc.

Santa Ana: I know that "video" means television, but where does the word come from?—Reader.

A. Video is Latin for "I see." Pronounce it: VID-ee-oh. Incidentally, the customary term nowadays for the television audience is "viewers," comparable to "listeners" for the radio audience.

Program note: Drew Pearson does not say "pro-gr'm." He pronounces the second syllable correctly as "gram" to rhyme with "gram, tram."

Truman Is Loyal To His Friends

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Washington.—Several times at his news conference President Truman has been asked about the status of a proposed loan to Mexico. The answer has been: "No comment."

Involved in the question of a Mexican loan are all the conflicting forces that make Washington today a place of weary stalemate. That seems the likely outcome of the Mexican project—stalemate.

Chairman Herbert Gaston has told interested members of congress that the Export-Import bank would not look favorably on a request for a large oil loan. The amount sought by the Mexican government to develop oil properties held by a government corporation is reported to be $470,000,000.

At one point there was fairly wide support within the Truman administration for a Mexican loan. A loan to develop not merely oil wells but hydro-electric and other projects was considered important to help the Mexican government counter a serious wartime inflation. The cost of living index stood at 325 last September as compared with 100 in 1939.

PAULEY GETS CONTRACT

Then certain things happened. The president's good friend, Edwin W. Pauley, came into the picture. Reports from Mexico had it that Pauley, in association with two independent oil companies, was signing an extraordinary contract with Pemex, the Mexican government corporation covering every phase of the oil industry.

The terms of that contract have never been made public. The broad outlines, however, are reported to be as follows: The Pauley group would get 50 per cent of all oil produced by their drilling until they were reimbursed for their investment.

At the same time they would get 16 per cent of all oil produced on land and 18 per cent drilled from wells in the tidelands. This would be free and clear of all taxes and claims which would make it the equivalent, considering the tax-free provision, of roughly 40 per cent of the oil.

After developing a field and being reimbursed, the Pauley combine would move out. But for 25 years thereafter they would continue to get 16 per cent of the oil, tax free.

Under the reported terms of the contract, the productive wells would pay for the dry holes. Thus the only way the combine could lose would be if their geologists and drillers failed to find any oil whatsoever. The last is a most unlikely contingency, given the geological structures that prevail in oil-rich Mexico.

INFLUENTIAL CONNECTIONS

There were many, both in and out of government, whose attitude changed with the entrance of Pauley. They felt that, regardless of its merits or demerits, the loans would have a look of favoritism and politics. A disinterested inquiry to a high official of the Mexican government seeking information on the reason for the Pauley contract brought this reply:

"You ask why Mr. Pauley has become a participant. You should know that Mr. Pauley came to Mexico City with a letter of introduction from your president to our president."

Behind the scenes large American oil companies applied pressure in opposition to the proposed loan. Their properties were expropriated in 1938. While they were repaid for installations above ground, they were not compensated for the oil wealth under the ground, which the Mexican government held to be the property of the Mexican state. Why, argued the oil companies, give a loan to a government that has seized private property?

There were others who argued that the oil project should be financed by private capital. Their position was that private investment abroad must be given an opportunity or foreign governments would never get over the habit of looking to public loans with all the political limitations hazards that such loans imply. This point of view was expressed in a memorandum prepared by the School of Advanced International Studies that is believed to have influenced policy-makers.

Pauley was in Washington recently and sat on President Truman's right at a dinner given by James Bruce, American ambassador to the Argentine, for important contributors to the Democratic campaign last fall. The president is intensely loyal to his old friends.

Political friendships and economic policy seem in this instance at least to be scored off one against the other and the net result is zero. For anyone interested in the Washington stalemate here is a case study in what conflicting pressures can mean.

A. The Standard American pronunciation is: AK-wuh. Some dictionaries list "AY-kwuh" is obsolescent. Better say: AK-wuh.

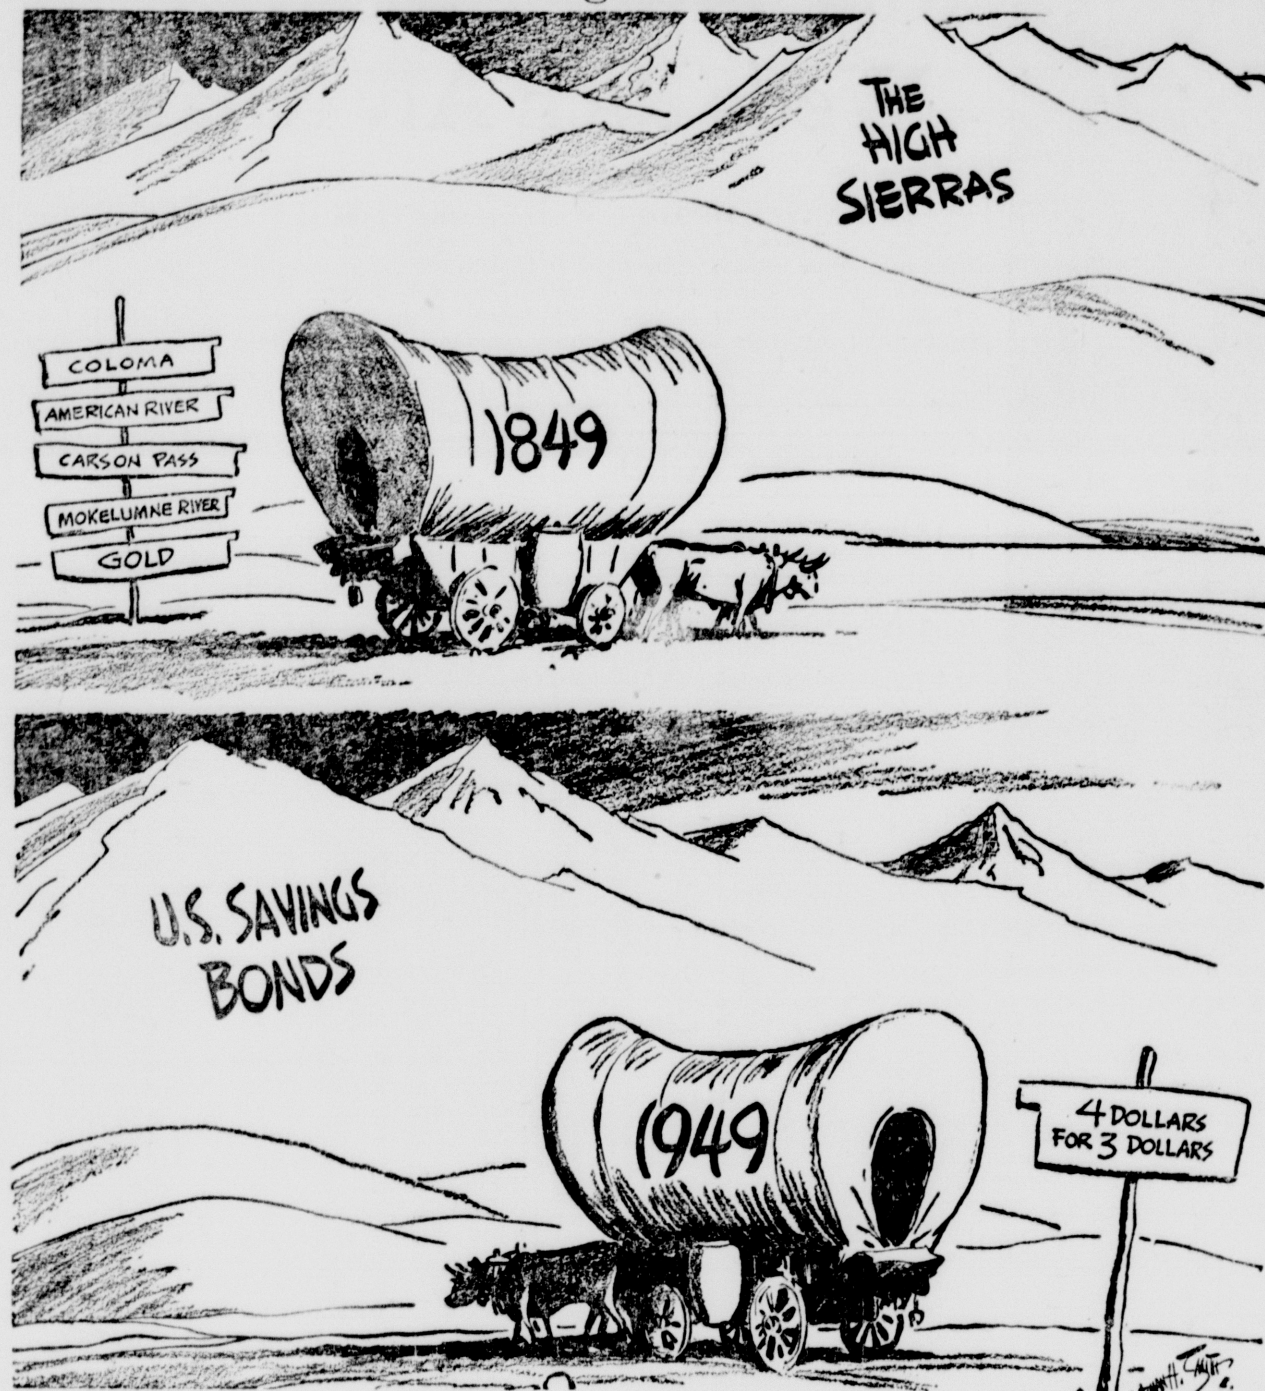

Fabens: A co-worker insists this headline is correct: "The Problems Facing We Laymen." How can I convince her that she is wrong?—J. S.

A. Omit the word "Laymen" and you'll have the impossible construction "The Problems Facing We." The pronoun following the verb "facing" must be in the objective (acted upon) case: The problems facing us laymen. Also: The problems facing me, him, her, them.

St. Paul: My firm receives a good many letters from various parts of England. In the addresses I notice the county names of "Hants" and "Salop." But I cannot find any such counties in my Atlas.—G. P.

A. The British, who like to poke fun at American usage, do some pretty weird things themselves to what they are pleased to call "the King's English." The name "Hants," pronounced to rhyme with "pants," is the abbreviation of Hampshire, although there is no "nt" in Hampshire. Likewise "Salop," pronounced "SAL-up," is the abbreviation of the name Shropshire! Neat? Rawthah.

GINSENG GYP— We were in the court house at Escanaba the other day when Albert Price of Cornell came in to inquire of Joe Heirman, county agricultural agent, about a seed problem.

The seeds were those of ginseng, purchased by Price and shipped to him from a firm in Winnipeg, Canada. For some reason Mr. Price could not understand, about one-half the shipment of seeds were fine gravel stones.

Having enough stones on his own land Price through the cost of those Canadian rocks came rather high. He was advised to write the seed dealer in Winnipeg and notify him that a mistake had been made.

In the event you're curious about ginseng, as we were, you will probably be interested to know that ginseng is an herb with a fleshy, wrinkled, yellow taproot which the Chinese regard as a remedy for nearly every disease of body or mind. The American ginseng, larger than the kind found in China, once flourished as a wild plant in the United States and Canada. Now largely gone, the cultivated ginseng has replaced the native supply. It is a difficult plant to raise—especially from seeds that are partly pebbles.

SKUNK REMOVER— If you have any skunk catching to be done, James E. Gribble will highly recommend George "Chippie" Minerick of Hermansville. Gribble knows how effective Minerick's methods work.

Chip was called to the Gribble residence in Hermansville last Sunday morning after other means of enticing a skunk had failed. The pretty black and white kitty had taken up apartment life in sunken window of the basement.

A trapper by trade, Chip set one of his small traps, deposited a little special skunk lure nearby and then sat back to wait for results. He did not have long to wait. The skunk came out, stuck his foot in the trap. Chip lifted the trapped skunk into a receptacle before the animal had time to take aim, let alone do any firing. It was a quick, complete, and odorless job.

AND A CATCHER—The story of Chip and the skunk reminds me of the newspaperman who once resided in an Upper Peninsula city. That city was noted for its skunks. Every spring the skunks came out to bother the residents and they finally called upon the police department so often that a semi-official office of skunk catcher was created and a man was appointed to fill the position.

The newspaperman sent out a story and picture about the city skunk catcher. A few days later, in newspapers all over the Middle West, there appeared the picture of the skunk catcher—but the name used was that of the newspaperman! The mistake came about because the photographer had written the name of the newspaperman on the back of the picture, and the newspaperman had not erased it before sending it out to the other papers. Relatives and friends of the newspaperman wrote to ask if he had taken on a new job.

MANY FRIENDS—It has been said, and often repeated, that a dog is man's best friend. After

INTO THE PAST

Ten Years Ago

Chicago—Dr. Charles H. Mayo, famous surgeon who teamed with his brother in developing the internationally known medical clinic, died of pneumonia at Mercy hospital today.

Escanaba—Earle Harris Jr., John Cleary and Bob Beaudoin have been chosen to represent Escanaba at Boys' State in Lansing.

Nahma—Howard Thomas, noted painter and director of the arts divisions of Milwaukee State Teachers' College, has been engaged to teach painting at the Nahma Vacation School in August.

Twenty Years Ago

Escanaba—Ivan A. Swanstrom, for three and a half years an accountant for the Wolverine and Delta Motor companies, has accepted a position with the De-Grand Motor company.

Manistique—Dr. and Mrs. C. M. Sigler left by motor for Howell, where they will visit their daughter, Jeannette.

Gladstone—Samuel J. Holman, worshipful master of Gladstone lodge, F. & A. M., has gone to Pontiac to attend the grand lodge meeting.

I am compelled to express my skepticism (about the possibility of a Pacific Pact). A skepticism which, diplomatically disguised, can already be felt in Washington. For America, as great as it is, cannot save the world simultaneously in Europe and Asia . . . and between Europe and Asia. America has already made an unmistakable choice.—Claro M. Recto, Philippine foreign minister during the Japanese occupation.

reading the large number of communications received by the Daily Press in recent weeks, we have come to believe that man is dog's best friend.

A lady from Manistique who asks that her name not be used, sends a piece about "Stray Dogs" and "A Plea for Helpless Creatures" and suggests they be reprinted. "If the article would save just a few dogs from wandering around homeless or in being destroyed it seems to me it would be worthwhile. After all, dogs are God's creatures, and we should help them all we can."

"A Plea for Helpless Creatures" was written by Ralph Fletcher, and published in London in 1846. Following is an excerpt:

"Let us not, therefore, enter into the needless question whether animals have souls. We behold the miseries of the poor dumb creatures, we feel that we have free-will sufficient, and the means, to lighten their burdens; let us therefore commence with energy this really benevolent purpose, rather assume theories of their happiness which are but apologies for our want of feeling, our avarice or indolence."

IN THE MAKING—It is not often you see pictures of the cherry trees blossoming in Michigan. Rather, the cherry blossoms of Washington's tidal basin receive the publicity.

Yet Michigan's blossoming cherry orchards have far greater significance, for last year's crop of Michigan cherries ran to over 138 million pounds—a larger production of red tart cherries than the rest of the United States combined.

Now the Grand Traverse Bay region of Lower Michigan is bright with the blossoming trees, frothing in orderly rows over hills, dipping long lines of pink-white bloom into the valleys. Another crop of Michigan cherries is in the making.

Wants Daily Delivery

Dear Editor:

Will the people of Escanaba ever again have daily milk deliveries? The every other day deliveries were started during the war to save gasoline and tires. All customers were willing to cooperate at that time.

Now the war has been over for more than three years but because of the convenience to the dairy we still get our milk every other day. And we know the dairies are paying the farmers less for milk than they did a few years ago. No matter how much you want to get milk every day, by taking milk from two dairies, apparently by agreement the dairies all deliver in the same neighborhood on the same day.

Maybe the local dairies would like to have me buy Wisconsin milk at the store.

More Work, Less Talk

Dear Editor:

I heard on the radio the other night where the Chamber of Commerce is still talking about fixing roads in this town. And the Yacht Basin going to be blacktopped. What about the poor man who can't afford a yacht, or even a row boat or a car because there's not work to go around. Is this what keeps Michigan in the hole. I say let's get more work around here and less talk.

A Disgusted Veteran

(To Disgusted Veteran: Please come again with a fuller explanation of your gripe. The road repair program is conducted by the city, not the Chamber of Commerce, and all projects thus far prepared have been requested by property owners who will pay the cost by special assessments. We are unaware of any plans to pave the road to the Yacht Basin which we presume, you are referring to in your letter.)

Use Life Preservers

Dear Editor:

I would like to suggest to fishermen the need for using life preservers when fishing out on the lakes. A heavy wind can come up, you may stand up or you may unsettle your boat in other ways. The best swimmers are prone to panic.

Sincerely,

A. Malamud,

So They Say

The military burden today added to our other expenditures, is seriously imperiling the economy of the country. There are great savings to be made in the (military) department.—Former President Herbert Hoover.

We must make it plain that we recognize the right of a free people to freely choose communism if they so desire. It is as a tool of conquest that we should oppose communism outside of our own country.—Sen. Ralph Flanders (R) of Vermont.

It (the executive branch of the government) has 10,000 faults, and the greatest fault of all is that it is taking more money from the taxpayers than is necessary to provide the same service.—Former President Herbert Hoover.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington.—Lilypons, Md., a post office literally in a Maryland cow pasture, from which the famous opera singer, Lily Pons, mails her Christmas cards every year, has been kept open by the post office department at a cost of about $5,000 a year—thanks to political pressure.

No private individual person gets his mail at Lilypons. It serves one goldfish company—no one else. Local citizens have petitioned the government to have the post office closed. Yet it is kept open—thanks to the mysterious influence of Maryland senators—chiefly Millard Tydings.

Reason for this waste is not the famed opera singer who mails her Christmas cards from Lilypons. She has nothing to do with the case, probably doesn't even know about it. What happened was that the two men who own the goldfish company hired two attorneys close to Senators Tydings and O'Connor. Prior to that, the two senators seemed quite willing to close the post office. But after their bosom friends were retained, suddenly they didn't—though Senator O'Connor says he merely attended a meeting in Tydings' office and is not particularly interested.

The story sounds fantastic but illustrates certain points set forth by the Hoover commission recently regarding post office waste and subsidies. The Lilypons post office appears to be such a subsidy to the Three Springs Fisheries company.

POST OFFICE FROWNS

What happened was that last fall post office inspectors reported that this post office in a Maryland cow pasture should be closed.

"The Lilypons post office serves no patrons except the Three Springs Fisheries and the Thomas Supply company," states the official report. "Mail is not received for any other firms or persons. The employees of the companies number only ten, and the employees do not live at Lilypons."

"At this season of the year, incoming mail to the firms at Lilypons is small in amount. Sometimes only five pieces are received daily. During the peak season about 100 pieces of mail are received daily. Mail dispatched varies according to the season of the year and the amount of advertising being done, but will average about 75 pieces."

"Discontinuance of the post office at Lilypons will not work any hardship on the Three Springs Fisheries or the Thomas Supply company. It will, of course, be necessary for them to receive and dispatch mail at Adamstown, 3.2 miles away, or through the Adamstown rural carrier 1.2 miles away, and the company will be deprived of rent and the mail messenger allowance; the former amounts to $300 a year, and the latter to $900 a year, contract for which is held by Thomas Fisheries, Inc. It is necessary, however, for the Three Springs Fisheries to dispatch a truck or other vehicle to Adamstown every day for the purpose of shipping their fish by express."

"The department is of the opinion that the Lilypons post office should be discontinued," concludes the report, "inasmuch as it would not work a hardship on the two companies and it would save the department money."

In other words, the goldfish company not only got the benefit of a private post office, but was paid $300 a year rent by Uncle Sam and $900 a year for truck hire, on top of which George Lincester Thomas, Jr., one of the owners of the firm, served for a time as postmaster.

At first the Maryland senators made no objection to closing this post office in a cow pasture. Then suddenly the Thomases, owners of the goldfish company, retained Francis Peirce, close friend of Senator O'Connor, and William Storm, close friend of Senator Tydings. This was approximately nine months ago.

Since then the official recommendation of the post office department, plus the protests of many taxpayers in the vicinity have been ignored.

Lilypons, Md., post office still remains open—sometimes receiving only five pieces of mail a day.

ALASKA VS. HAWAII

A hot backstage row over statehood for Alaska and Hawaii has the house rules committee in a tizzy.

Republican members, led by Ohio's Clarence Brown, have served notice on Chairman Adolph Sabath of Illinois, Democrat, that they will block action on statehood for Alaska, which normally votes Democratic, unless Sabath also agrees to act on statehood for Hawaii, which is controlled by the G. O. P.

Republicans contend that if Alaska is to have two Democratic senators, then Hawaii is entitled to two Republican senators.

Statehood for both territories was promised in the Democratic platform, but Sabath evinces little interest in Hawaii. In this he is privately supported by Speaker Sam Rayburn. For the two Democratic leaders haven't forgotten how the Republicans rammed a Hawaiian statehood bill through the house in the 80th congress with no thought of Alaska. Later the bill died in the senate.

ASKS COLUMN FOR DIVORCES

Ruark Sees Need For New Department

By ROBERT C. RUARK
New York—One thing I would like to see in my newspaper these days is a celebrity sports section so to speak, which would list all the current weddings and divorces of the Hollywoodians and the Broadway - Miami - Palm Springs characters who change mates to match their wardrobes.

The way it is now, with the matrimony, divorces, romances and paternity suits scattered all over the paper, I get awful confused. What we need is at least a solid page of the stuff—maybe even a whole section, edited by Arline Judge. Call it the "second-hand section," if you like.

In one day of reading the papers, I noted that, in addition to her problems of negligence and wedding site, Miss Rita Hayworth had also discovered a drowned man, upsetting the three-time bride terribly.

Deluge of Divorces
There was a piece in which Sabu, the elephant boy, was charged with being the papa of an unwedded ballet dancer's 8-months old daughter. The wedding plans of Mrs. Nora Eddington (Errol) Flynn and Dick (Joanne Dru) Haymes were tentatively announced.

Evelyn Keyes and Director John Huston had decided to call it a day. Mr. Huston was mentioned as interested in Paulette Goddard, who is trying to shed husband Burgess Meredith down in Mexico.

Broadway actor Robert Bruce Douglas, it was announced, was married to Actress Harriet Vine after Harriet called Hollywood to beseech the blessing of her 8-year-old son. Blessing received, knot tied. Alida Valli, Italian film star, filed suit for divorce. Charging cruelty, against husband Oscar De Mejo. Hunt Stromberg, jr., and his spouse decided to quit after two years of bliss.

That's a fair sample. For running stories, we have had the Ingrid Bergman-Roberto Rossellini idyll, plus Miss Hayworth's lengthy nomadic romance with the Aly Khan. We always have Mickey Rooney with us, contemplating divorce or matrimony. We have had Lana and the Topping boys to dance, and the Topping boys, and the Topping boys, and the Topping boys.

We isolate many newspaper ingredients today—world news, purely local news, Washington news, city hall news, veteran news, sports, woman's grist, society. Celebrity marriage and divorce, counter-suit and rumor, can certainly be classified no longer as mixed-gull romance, to be played wild over the paper. Journalistically speaking it's sports, or amusement pure and simple, and big enough to justify departmentalization.

I would like to see Tommy Manville named editor emeritus of such a page, together with Peggy Hopkins Joyce. They would take no part in its administration. They would merely serve as fountains of inspiration and occasional consultation. Miss Judge would certainly qualify as editor and columnist.

This special second-hand section would carry boxscores, as in baseball, and a special form rating on the contestants—excuse me, lovers—after the fashion of the races. In this fashion you would be able to tell at a glance whether the matrimonial participants were well-merged or well-sundered, according to past performance.

I recall the confusion engendered by the recent nuptials between the Topping boy and Lana Turner. Actively related, in this recital of love's young dream, were Bob Topping, Dan Topping, Sonja Henie, Artie Shaw, Kathleen Winsor, Steve Crane, an aspirin fortune, the Broadway stage, Tyrone Power, the New York Yankees and a tiptop fortune. At one time or another they had all been married to or romantically interested in each other.

A simple racing chart on an event like this—or even on the current bliss of Mr. and Mrs. Aly Khan—would certainly clear up all doubts and confusions for simple customers like me. Right now I'm not sure whether Sabu or Louella Parsons is best man, and nowhere in the paper have I been able to find a box containing the bride's batting average.

Living Cost Index Moves Up Again In Government Report

Washington, (AP)—The government's cost of living index has shown another slight increase.

On April 15 the index of retail prices on goods and services purchased by moderate income families was at 169.7 per cent of the 1935-39 average—0.1 per cent above the index of March 15, the bureau of labor statistics said.

That left the index about where it was on the same date in 1948. But it was 72.1 per cent above August, 1939, and 27.3 per cent above June, 1946, when most price controls were lifted.

The April figure represented the second monthly rise after a five-month decline.

Food prices, which play a major part in determining living costs, were up in 37 cities, dropped in 17 and remained unchanged in two. The retail food price index on April 15 was 2.5 per cent lower than it was a year ago, but 39 per cent above the June, 1946, level.

Business Thinks Slump Will Stop

By SAM DAWSON
New York (AP)—News columns are packed with little items showing declines in many lines of business. Side by side are about as many little items reporting the verbal assurances of various business leaders that everything is going to work out all right.

Together they make interesting reading. Maybe you can add them up to something. Take steel. Production this week will drop below that of the similar week last year—the first time this year that has happened. But Chairman Edward L. Ryerson of Inland Steel Co., admitting that a "readjustment, shakedown" is due in the industry, nevertheless predicts that probably early in 1950 "we are apt to see an upsurge movement."

Or take shoes. Out put so far this year is running 5.4 per cent behind the same months last year, the Tanners Council of America estimates. It has been eight months now since the industry could report production as good or better than a year previous.

But in New York they are holding a "popular price shoe show" this week. Officials say attendance exceeds all expectations and "order placing is at a record rate for a show in the trade. Strength in the hide market recently helps to whet the buyers' appetites for fall deliveries."

Or take women's dresses. Store sales have been down this year—almost every week so far has made a poorer showing than the similar week last year. But I. A. Agree, general manager of the National Dress Manufacturers association, says his members are taking heart at last. They believe that prices have been shaken out by now. They think inventory losses in the industry have about reached their end. Things look much brighter for fall, they tell him.

Then there's stocks and bonds. Things couldn't be much drearier than in Wall Street these days. Stock sales volume down, prices flabby. Emil Schram, president of the New York Stock Exchange, says in Denver that things won't get much better in the matter of getting new capital into the corporate security market until something is done about the federal tax structure.

Well, things looked a little better today—or at least no worse—to many Wall Street observers. They took heart from Washington reports that congressional leaders apparently had tabled for this year the president's demand for higher taxes.

And in Illinois, an economist predicts businessmen are going to find a bigger supply of money around this year. In the "Illinois Business Review," R. M. Nolen, associate professor of economics at the University of Illinois, estimates there may be several billions of excess dollars looking for investment chances. Much of this excess money, he thinks, will be insurance company funds looking for work. Another source will be the banks, who are expected to have even more lendable cash shortly, if bank reserve requirements are lowered again, as seems likely.

Can't Tell Woman Much, Boyle Learns

New York, (AP)—The sweet young thing had a stormy look in her eyes as she marched up to my desk.

"May I be of any assistance to you, ma'am?" I inquired courtously.

You have to be cautious in a newspaper office these days when pretty girls come up to you. You never know whether they want you to be the last man in their pyramid club, or to tell you they just shot down their dear old grandmother for reading too many comic books.

"Yes, you can help me," she said. "You wrote a piece telling college men graduates how to get ahead in life. But how about the girl graduates? Haven't you anything to tell me?"

"Have I?" I asked, looking to see which ear she wanted filled first. "Sit down, my dear."

The only seat I have for callers is an iron-rimmed wastebasket. She stood and stared at it in careful helplessness. I sat and stared at it, too. Then I got up and sat down on the wastebasket, and she moved over and sat down in my chair.

"I don't think there is anything I can tell you," I said.

"Why?"

"Because you just showed you have already learned woman's most important art—how to get men to do what you want."

"Oh, men!" she said. "I sometimes wish all the men in the world were dead—not that they probably aren't."

"Why are you mad at men?"

"Because they take up so much space. What chance has a woman who wants a career? Men hold the big jobs. If there's a soft touch in life it's theirs."

She said this—and me sitting there cramped on an iron wastebasket.

"Look," I said. "You've got life backwards. Men lost out in the struggle to rule the world long ago. It's a woman's world today. The prime aim left to men now is to make women happy. Men work, women spend. This isn't just a feminine rage we're living in—it's a feminine rampage."

Advice Falls Flat

"Well," she said. "I can see why they call you the poor man's philosopher. You certainly aren't the poor woman's Socrates—or Gable either, for that matter. What about equal rights?"

"What about equal wrongs—do you want those, too?" I asked.

"Einstein couldn't figure a formula to give women equal rights. And it wouldn't be fair to them if he did."

"How can I have a successful career?"

"Work hard, use your brains, be friendly—just like I told the college boys. And don't try to capitalize on sex in business."

"Is there any way I can avoid it?" she dithered.

"No, I guess not," I sighed. "Not for another 30 years. Then it won't make any difference. What's your name anyway?"

"Just call me Jane College," she said. "I came to see you on a dare."

As she turned to leave, I said: "Can I give you just one more piece of advice? Few women—or few men either—ever found complete happiness in a career alone. It's better to be queen in a kitchenette than a sub-princess in a 20-room office. Find you a nice healthy man and marry him."

"Who'd you have in mind?" asked the sweet young thing.

I went back to my chair, still feeling like I was sitting in the wastebasket. I suppose this is the way any man feels who ever tries to tell any woman anything.

Vaudeville Veteran Dies Poor, Forgets She Had $110,000

New York (AP)—She probably just forgot.

That's the opinion of an attorney who investigated the strange case of the fortune of Flora Esmond, one-time vaudeville star.

She died, at 76, last Oct. 2 of malnutrition.

A collection of junk—old trunks, boxes, newspaper clippings—littered her west side flat.

At the time, it was thought she died virtually penniless, except for some Queens real estate listed in her name.

But little memorandum slips in one of the trunks aroused the curiosity of James E. Doherty, Jr., an attorney who was named executor for her estate.

The slips bore notations such as "N. R. for John" and "N. J. Long B. me."

Finally he decided the notes might represent bank accounts. He sent out mimeographed letters to several hundred banks asking if Flora Esmond ever had an account.

News of deposits began to pour in from banks along the vaudeville circuit all over the eastern seaboard. The total has reached $110,000.

Most of the funds had been deposited many years ago, while Miss Esmond was touring at the height of her career.

In her later years, she had lived in deep poverty, never touching the scattered bank accounts.

Gay Copenhagen Offers Good Food, Music, Fun

By PEG BOLGER
Manager, News Bureau
Wisconsin Central Airlines

Copenhagen—Take a handful of islands, paint them a gentle-green, borrow some gingerbread castles from fairyland and some sugar candy houses from a child's book, paint some peaceful cattle and a stork's nest or two, sprinkle the whole picture liberally with bicycles and bicyclists, and you have the Danish country-side.

March colorful toy—soldier guards up and down some cobble streets, add churches, busy traffic and a large town-hall square. Plunk the most fabulous amusement park you can imagine smack in the middle of everything. Call it "Tivoli." Shoot off some fireworks. Say "Skaal!" every two minutes. Dream up the most delicious food possible and play gay music . . . loud—and that's Copenhagen . . . or the surface impression of it.

A Vigorous Democracy

Dig a little bit under the surface and you find something very substantial.

A monarchy that's really a vigorous democracy.

No poverty whatsoever. Social legislation takes care of everybody with particular emphasis for old people and babies. National nursery schools are everywhere and old people have nice individual apartments and good food, mostly paid for by the state, and very adequate pensions. Everyone gets all kinds of medical care for practically nothing . . . the rest paid for by the government.

No illiteracy. The educational system is as comprehensive as the social legislation. It's said that Denmark is the country where ditch-diggers and professors may converse with ease on the same cultural level and often do.

And this little country is one of the largest food producers in the world.

Quite a place, Denmark, underneath the surface. But the surface impressions here are more fun than anything. These are mine:

Everybody in Denmark rides a bicycle. Even the weather vane in the tower across the square. A golden girl peddles out when it's going to be sun-shiny, a young lady in a raincoat wheels out when it's going to rain.

The Danes laugh very easily. My Temple Fielding guide book said a Dane will tell you a funny story two minutes after meeting you. Sure enough, immediately after hustling me through customs, Scandinavian Airlines System's gracious Mr. Bierberg popped out with one about two Englishmen and a coal shovel.

Finds No Rackets

The Danes are honest and, as in Norway, there are no rackets. At least, if there's a black market in dollars here, I haven't heard about it.

They like people here. No one is very formal and it's like tumbling off a log to make friends. And, happily for visiting Americans, they like to show off their knowledge of foreign languages—an astonishing knowledge, even to colloquialisms. "Hi," said a taxi driver to me. "How's every little thing?"

And what a lot of self-expression is going on! "There are still," says a charming little booklet called "We Danes and You," "two thousand Danes who have never written a book or a play or painted a picture, but this figure is steadily diminishing."

"Thank you" and "Skaal" are the two expressions you hear most. Everyone says "thank you" to everybody for everything. It's a "tak" and when someone is particularly enthusiastic, such as when the hotel maid thanked me for letting her make the bed, it comes out like a machine gun . . . "tak, tak, tak, tak."

"Skaal-ing" is a ritual. At a signal you take your glass in hand, stare your companion straight in the eye, lift the glass, say "skaal," vigorously, look into his eyes a little harder and drink, never wavering your gaze until the glass is put down. The clustom dates back to the Viking days when you didn't expose your windpipe to a friend's dagger and watched him very carefully when you tilted back your head to drink. But for all its cautious beginning, it's a very friendly custom in Denmark.

In Denmark you go to bed under a "dyne." A dyne is a large quilt-like cushion stuffed with feathers. I'd never seen one before and approached it cautiously because it looks as heavy as an elephant. It's really as light as the feathers it's stuffed with and quite comfortable, cozy and warm.

Night life is gay in Copenhagen and lasts all hours. Beer is the national drink apparently, the Cherry Heering brandy is nectar and the Snaps are the strongest in all of Scandinavia.

Danes Are Epicureans

And the food, the food is out of this world. The desserts are famous and indescribable, as are the hundreds of varieties of little open-faced sandwiches, the wonderful casserole dishes flavored with wine, fine meat sauces, tiny shrimp, and hundreds of "specialties." The Danes are really the epicureans of Europe. They have taken the best of French and Swedish cooking and added something definitely their own. Every restaurant you happen into in Copenhagen is sure to be superb but I can personally recommend the delicious little pancakes at the D'Angleterre Hotel. They come piping hot with dozens of sauces to choose from, but one day for lunch, Mr. Hilborg, the friendly hotel manager, ordered mine icy cold, filled with chopped hazelnuts. Wonderful. I suppose they're fattening but who cares?

The fountains at Tivoli, the music, the pageantry of a kingdom, the arts, the food, and the bubbling-over quality of Copenhagen have given it the nickname "Paris of the North." But it's really something else besides . . . it's . . . Copenhagen.

Legionnaires Are Urged to Wear a
Poppy Tomorrow

All members of The American Legion were called upon to wear a poppy on Poppy Day, Saturday, May 28, in a special message issued today by Cliff Weir, Commander of Cloverland No. 82 Post of the Legion.

Urging that veterans of both world wars set an example of reverence for the war dead by wearing the memorial flower throughout the day, Commander Weir said:

"Passage of the years has not dimmed our memory of those comrades of ours who served by our sides and who gave their lives for America. Let us, then, show that we remember them and honor their sacrifice by wearing our memorial flower, the poppy, on Poppy Day. In this observance war veterans should set the example for all citizens.

"Members of the American Legion Auxiliary, our wives, mothers, sisters and daughters will distribute the flowers on the streets on Poppy Day and receive contributions for welfare work among needy veterans and veterans' children. Knowing as we do the great and growing need for this phase of Legion and Auxiliary activity, we should be as generous as our means permit when receiving our poppies.

"Members of the American Legion should be among the first to put on poppies on Poppy Day and should give every cooperation toward making the observance of the day a complete success."

Special Program
For Story Hour

The name, Hercules, has never been a popular name with boys and girls. Anyone with that name would, today, be called a Sissy. However, if the boys and girls of Escanaba attend the story hour at 10:00 on Saturday morning at the children's room of Carnegie public library, they will hear about two persons with the name of Hercules, who didn't mind that name at all. One was Hercules, the gentle giant. The other was Hercules, an old-fashioned fire engine. Miss Betty M. Harris, children's librarian, will tell of their adventures.

111 Cedar StreetCLASS PLAY
WELL RECEIVEDYouthful Actors Present
Rollicking Comedy

Typical American youth, portrayed with a naturalness that clicked far more effectively than professional acting ever could, provided interesting, and at times, hilarious entertainment for the capacity crowd which saw "Janie" the senior class play, at the high school auditorium Wednesday evening.

The play, a three act comedy, which scored as a Broadway production a few seasons ago, was based on the theme of what is very apt to happen in a community adjacent to an army encampment. In this case, the young daughter of the house and her girl chums throw a party for some young soldiers and the whoopee, puppy love and hopeless entanglements that resulted provided the comedy.

Paul Vibena, Marcella Miller, John Quick and Nadyne Reque played the adult roles, delineating well the roles so sharply in contrast with the youthful characters with which they mingled.

Doris Schweikert, as Janie Colburn, played the leading role, ably supported by Sheila Byers, Meressa Cutting and Mildred Kerridge, her chums.

Douglas Moreau as "Scooper", the boy friend next door, and Harold Schultz, as family guest, also had stellar parts with their constant feuding.

Carole Dybevik, as the kid sister, at times stole the show with her perfect portrayal of a first rate pest.

Playing soldier and sailor roles—each in distinct type and character—were Lawrence Lamourie, Clifford Johnson, Harold Shust, Hugh Bundy, Larry Curran, Don Springer and Tom Kennedy. James Roemer and Marian Knopp were black faced domestics and John Hockstad as Uncle Poodgie came up strong in the finish to untangle all of the weird situations, bring forgiveness to the errant, reconciliation to the estranged and prosperity to the head of the house.

The audience was large and appreciative. Marvin Frederikson, school instructor in speech, who directed the cast was publicly presented with a gift by the actors.

Take Train Ride

Hermansville, Mich.—Twenty-one Hermansville kindergarten school children and their teacher, Mrs. Edward J. Hiller purchased their tickets last Thursday for their first train ride on the scout to Powers and then to Menominee on the "400."

They chartered a bus for the twincities. In Menominee they visited the fire station and were shown the fire truck, the 60 foot hose ladder, the county ambulance and inhalator. In Marinette they visited the Swedish Bakery and were shown how bread is made. Each was treated with a glazed doughnut. The visitors, on going over the bridge, were told the difference between a bridge and a drawbridge.

They returned to Menominee where they had lunch at the junior high school through the courtesy of Mr. MacDonald. They walked to the postoffice and mailed cards home to their parents, to tell them they were having a good time. They also visited at the Washington school with Miss Elsie Guimond. They went home on the Hermansville school bus that brought the 8th grade students and their instructor, Mrs. Henry Lombard, who also had visited the city.

"The purpose of the refuge," said Mrs. Beard, "is for the production of water fowl and the increase of wild life."

The Seney Refuge, made up of 96,000 acres of grass swamp land, is one of the four largest in the United States. The federal government has 200 reserves administered by the Fish and Wildlife Service.

Mrs. Beard told how years ago the rich grass lands of the area were promoted as farm land and how many farms were established on the seemingly rich muck soil. Elaborate ditching systems were established. Coarse sand and gravel underlying the muck would not hold water and crops withered and died, so farming was abandoned.

In 1935 the Department of Interior acquired the area and with CCC and WPA labor began developing three pool units. At present there are 100 miles of roads and an elaborate dike system. The refuge is divided into three pool units and is considered about half developed.

made by the members, and a pot luck supper.

Mrs. Frank Arrowood gave a report on the annual meeting of the National Home Demonstration Council at Tulsa last fall. Mrs. Leonard England led group singing.

Mrs. Harold Snyder, county vice chairman, presented Mrs. C. S. Johnson with a going away gift from the county clubs. Mrs. Johnson has been county home economics chairman since the first of the year.

The program ended with old time dancing.

The refuge has the largest nesting areas east of the Mississippi River for sand hill cranes. The Canada goose population which was started by a gift of 300 geese has reached a saturation point at fifteen hundred and each year the geese are free to migrate. Only thirty of the original geese remain on the refuge. Besides the birds there are many deer, bear, muskrats, and fish on the refuge.

Mrs. Beard had beautiful colored slides to illustrate her talk. The prize picture was one of a jumping deer that was perfectly reflected in one of the pools.

The achievement program began with an exhibit of articles

Atlantic Eels Not Expected to Help
Kill of Lampreys

Lansing, (P)—The conservation department fish division is not very hopeful that Atlantic eels now being released in the Great Lakes will have much effect on sea lampreys.

A shipment of 85,000 young eels brought to Michigan by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife service were largely dead on arrival. It was hoped they would attack the young lampreys and cut down the increasing population.

F. A. Westernman, fish division chief, said, however, he doubted that the eels could reproduce in fresh water.

The lampreys, which attach themselves to food fish and suck their blood, are believed responsible for declining numbers of lake trout.

THEFT OF DOG
IS ADMITTEDDefendant Goes To Jail
For Three Months

John Johnson, Bark River Route 2, who upon arraignment in justice court Wednesday denied a charge of stealing a dog, yesterday reappeared before Justice A. T. Sohberg and altered his plea to guilty.

He was fined $50.00 and ordered to pay court costs of $11.00 and make restitution to Albert Derouin, Escanaba, to whom he sold the pooch he didn't own, in the amount of $10.00.

The alternative was 90 days in the county jail and to the county jail he went until he raises $71.00.

The dog, a black cocker spaniel, is owned by Louis Broman, city. Missing for a time, Broman finally located the dog in Escanaba, but the possessor refused to give up the dog claiming he had purchased it. Investigation proved this true. Further investigation disclosed that someone had seen Johnson coax the dog into an auto here and other witnesses were found who saw Johnson dispose of the dog for $5.00 at the Buck Inn near Wells.

Replevin action was started to obtain the return of the dog to Broman and today his pet was back in his old home.

State Police and sheriff's officers cooperated in the case.

Legion Auxiliary Again
Distributes Emblems

Poppies are to be sold in Gladstone as in other places throughout the nation tonight and Saturday under the auspices of the Auxiliary to August Mattson Post, American Legion.

Assisting members of the Auxiliary will be Girl Scouts of various troops in the city.

Mrs. Andy Moore is chairman of the drive.

The idea of the poppy as a memorial flower for the World War dead sprang up as naturally as the little wild flower itself grows in the fields of France and Flanders. The flower was the one touch of beauty which survived amid the hideous destruction of war. Along the edge of the trench, beneath the tangled barbed wire, about the ragged shell holes and over the fresh graves it raised its brave red blossom. It seemed to be the one immortal thing in that region where death reigned. The soldiers of all nations came to look upon it as the living symbol of the sacrifices of their dead comrades.

Musial, Slaughter Start Hitting; Now Watch The Cards Go

By JACK HAND
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Watch the St. Louis Cardinals go, now that Stan Musial and Enos Slaughter have started to hit.

The Red Birds probably can't win the pennant, but they definitely don't belong down in sixth or seventh place.

When the Cards limped home from the east, Musial was slumping and Slaughter was so bad he had been benched for a few games. Home cooking and morning practice at Sportsman's park fixed that.

In 10 games at St. Louis, Musial hit .316, batted in eight runs and smashed three homers. Slaughter did even better with a .352 average for the home stand and nine more RBIs.

Both Musial and Slaughter hit home runs last night in the Cards' 13-6 victory over Pittsburgh. It was the third straight for the rejuvenated Birds and their fourth in the last five games.

Things looked black for St. Louis in the top of the first when Pittsburgh flattened Red Munger and scored four runs. Three were driven home by Ralph Kiner's 10th homer, a blast that put him one up on Johnny Mize.

That was only the beginning. Back came the Cardinals with seven big runs in a blistering attack on Kirby Higbe and Hal Gregg.

Higbe, making his first start of the season after five so-so relief jobs, was wild and so was Gregg. Each walked a man with the bases loaded. Marty Marion capped the rally with a two-run single.

Jim Hearn, who relieved Munger in the first, was driven to cover in the second when the Pirates rallied for two more to make it 7-6, but they were blanked the rest of the way by Ted Wilks. It was the third victory for Wilks.

Cliff Chambers matched Wilks until the sixth, when Musial hit his sixth homer, Slaughter followed with his third of the year in the seventh.

St. Louis' victory in the only National league game moved them into a fifth-place tie with the Phillies.

When rain washed out the New York Yankee-Detroit game, both the Boston Red Sox and Washington Senators gained a half-game on the leaders.

Now five back of the Yanks, the Red Sox made it six out of eight since their return to Fenway park by dumping the St. Louis Browns, 7-5. An error by Eddie Pellagrini and a close play at second base helped them score four unearned runs in the eighth.

Mel Parnell failed to go the route for the first time in eight starts, giving way to Tex Hughson, the eventual winner, when the Browns went out front temporarily in the three-run eighth.

Ted Williams singled with the bases loaded in the eighth to drive in the winning runs off loser Ned Garver.

Cleveland closed its disastrous eastern tour by bowing to Washington, 5-4, in a game called after the first of the eighth to permit both teams to make a train connection. The world champs lost 7 of 9 in the east and 10 of 12 since leaving home.

Gene Bearden, world series hero in '48, failed to go the route for the fifth straight time. The left-handed knuckler was mauled for five runs in less than three innings, although Larry Doby gave him a two-run working margin with his sixth homer in the first.

Mickey Haefer, who stopped the Indians with one hit May 10, scattered seven hits for his fourth victory. He has trimmed the Tribe 17 times in 25 starts during his major league career.

Al Evans led the Senators attack with four singles.

The other major league clubs were not scheduled.

Saddened Tiges Return Luckless Eastern Tour

Detroit, May 27 (AP)—Red Rolfe's Tigers trudged back into Detroit today hopeful that the familiar scenery at Briggs stadium would help them snap a six-game losing streak.

The Bengals, who saw their fortunes ebb lower and lower as they traveled through the east on the tour just finished, got an early start back home when their game with New York yesterday

Kleiman Gets His Letter at Ferris

Big Rapids, May 27. — Harold Kleiman, Bark River, third baseman and Robert Kronmer, shortstop and Francis Revord, outfielder, Iron Mountain, all on the Ferris Institute Bulldogs baseball team, today were named lettermen by Coach Frank Karas. The team, which lost the services of its star right-handed speed pitcher, James Milano of Saginaw, with an injured elbow on his pitching arm, early in the season, had a record of five wins and six losses, with one game rained out.

William Kritselis, Sault Ste. Marie, student manager, also received a letter.

Spartan vs. Field In IC4A Track Meet

New York, May 27 (AP)—It was Michigan State against the field today as athletes from 46 colleges began competing in the 73rd annual Intercollegiate A.A.A.A. track and field championships.

The Spartans from East Lansing, Mich., who already hold the IC4A cross country and indoor track titles, were topheavy favorites to make it a grand slam by capturing the team championship on cinders.

Defending champion Yale, New York University and Cornell were considered the only teams with sufficient strength to challenge Michigan State, twice a runner-up but never a team titlist in the past.

Qualifying trials were carded in 12 events at Triborough stadium today. That will whittle the field of 669 athletes to the semifinals or finals. All 16 varsity events will be decided in finals tomorrow.

Michigan State boasts half a dozen possible winners in Fred Johnson, sprint and broad jump; Horace Smith, high and low hurdles; Jack Dianetti, 880 and mile, and Warren Druetzler, two-mile.

Yale's strength is concentrated in the shot put and discus, where Olympians Jim Fuchs and Vic Frank are potential record breakers; javelin, pole vault and mile run.

Frank in the discus, Johnson in the broad jump and Dianetti in the 880 are among 11 individual winners of 1948 back to defend their titles. Others are Reggie Pearman of NYU, 440; Horace Ashenfeiter of Penn State, two-mile; Paige Christiansen of Michigan State, high hurdles; Jeff Kirk of Pennsylvania, low hurdles; Stan Lampert of NYU, shot put; Irving Mondschheim of NYU, high jump; Seton Hall, mile relay, and Arthur Sherman of Rhode Island State, co-winner in the pole vault.

REMOTE CHANCE
Ann Arbor, Mich., May 27 (AP)—Still a remote title hope, Michigan closes its Western Conference baseball season against seventh-place Wisconsin today and tomorrow. Lefthander Walter (Bud) Rankin was slated to hurl today's game.

Freehold Raceway, harness racing track at Freehold, N. J., will operate from Aug. 11 to Sept. 10 this season.

The day before, the Yankees had pounded Detroit for a 6 to 2 victory to make it six games in a row that the Tigers had dropped.

But Manager Rolfe was not as gloomy because of the showing as might be expected.

"It isn't as bad as it sounds," he pointed out. "With any kind of luck, we could have won five of those games. When we get nosed out, or lose a tough one, it's hard to take, but the time to start really worrying is when the opposition keeps walloping you."

ESCANABA DAILY PRESS SPORTS

"It Seems To Me"

BY JIM WARD

Dave Johnson, of Escanaba, perhaps the second best quartermiler in Upper Peninsula high school track, will not be eligible to compete in the U. P. track finals here tomorrow because of an error in management resulting from a misinterpretation of a regulation covering the running of the 440 in the regional track meet in Menominee last Saturday.

Johnson ran a 54.8 quarter, three yards behind Menominee's Jack Anderson in 54.3 in the first section, but did not qualify because only the winner in this section was declared qualified and three others in the much slower second section (winning time of 56 flat and second and third strung out three and 15 yards behind) were declared qualified.

Only three men ran in the first section, and seven ran the second section. Under MHSAA regulations covering the regional 440, which state that "if there are 10 or less contestants . . . there is to be one race in this event," the management of the Menominee regional should have run only one race.

The misinterpretation came in the definition of the word "contestant." The management had more than 10 entries but only 10 actual contestants, which, according to the regulation, called for one race. Had this been done, Johnson, in all probability, would have qualified with ease since he ran a close second to Anderson in an Eskymo-Maroon dual meet the previous week and ran a close second to him in the first section of the regional last Saturday.

This decision was made by the Michigan High School Athletic association after telephone conferences with the management of the Menominee regional and officials of the U. P. track meet here, who sought a definite ruling preparatory to the finals here tomorrow.

As a result Tim Elmer, Iron Mountain; Don LaCourt, Menominee, and Eddie Lessard, of Menominee, who finished in that order and whose times ranged from 56 to 57 (against an unofficial 54.8 on Escanaba's Johnson), will compete in the U. P.

Despite efforts of U. P. meet officials to attempt to determine the four fastest qualifiers in this event, which is the prime purpose of preliminary regional meets, they accepted the MHSAA ruling in good grace although it meant the elimination of a quartermiler whose times in previous competitions have stamped him as the second best 440 man in the U. P.

In a letter to "Members of the Upper Peninsula Athletic committee and Class B high schools which competed in the regional track and field meet at Menominee high school," Charles E. Forsythe, MHSAA athletic director, stated his decision to abide by the Menominee management's selection (one from the field of three in one section and three from a field of seven).

"Apparently, the misunderstanding at the Menominee regional occurred in the interpretation of the words 'entries' and 'contestants,'" Forsythe wrote. "By 'entries' it has been meant that I indicated the men who were listed for the event on the entry blank. A contestant is one who actually competes. I am very certain that another year we will place a parenthetical sentence in the bulletin indicating that a contestant is one who actually competes or runs in the race itself."

In qualifying his decision, Forsythe stated: "While there was quite a probability that the man who finished second in the first race (three contestants) did the event in a lesser time than the winner of the second race with seven contestants, yet there was no definite assurance, as far as time records were concerned, that this fact could be substantiated."

In explanation of this, it is necessary to point out that Johnson was clocked in 54.8 by two watches, but they were unofficial. The only official time in the 440 at the Menominee meet was that taken on the winner in each section.

The rule itself is stated very clearly, we think, and the only possible justification the Menominee management can have for running two 440 sections is misinterpretation of the meaning of the word "contestant."

They had more than 10 entries, but they had only 10 contestants, and according to the rule covering the 440-yard dash for the regional meet on page 305 of the April, 1949, MHSAA bulletin that calls for one race.

Incidentally, an identical misinterpretation resulted in running the 880 in Menominee. The rule there is 15 or less calls for one race. There were 13 contestants, but two sections were run, six in one and seven in the other.

To the apparent satisfaction of all concerned, they picked the first two from each section because the times were fairly close, 2:13 and 2:13.5. But because three ran in one section and seven in another in the 440, the ratio of 1 from three and three from seven was arbitrarily used by the Menominee management in the 440 sections and ultimately approved by the MHSAA, although the event had been improperly run.

An alternative would have been to discount both races entirely, but this was not deemed advisable because it would be unfair to a greater number of youths who had looked forward to running in the U. P. finals.

This way, it's unfair only to Dave Johnson. We're glad to report he's taking it in good grace.

James L. Rouman, track and field supervisor, Stephen Baltic and Henry Wyllie, Escanaba track mentors, are the host coaches.

FIRE DAMAGES BUSINESS SHOP

Escanaba Upholstery Co. Nearly Wrecked

Fire of unknown origin this morning badly damaged the building at 804 Ludington street, occupied by the Escanaba Upholstery Shop. The business has been operated by F. Zehrsky and the building is owned by Swan Johnson.

The fire was discovered at 12:25 o'clock this morning by a city patrolman, who called the fire department. The fire apparently had been smoldering for a considerable time and when firemen opened the building to battle the flames, the gases exploded, blowing out the front door. There were no firemen inside the building at the time but Capt. Clarence Schrader, who was on the fourth step of the staircase leading upstairs was jolted to the ground.

The entire interior burst into flame with the explosion. The flames had spread to the apartment upstairs but no one was living in the apartment at the time. The fire apparently started in the floor in the rear of the building downstairs. Upholstery material was destroyed in the fire and the building itself was extensively damaged.

British Soap King Dies in Minneapolis On Tour of World

Minneapolis, May 27 (AP)—The body of Viscount William Leverhulme, 61, world industrialist who headed Unilever Industries, Ltd., will be taken by train and boat to England for burial.

The British magnate, one of the richest men in the Empire, died last night in a Minneapolis hospital in the midst of a family trip around the world. He was taken off a train here Monday suffering from an internal ulcer. Complications developed and death followed.

Charles Luckman, president of Lever Bros., U. S. Subsidiary of Unilever, said the body would leave Minneapolis Saturday by train for New York. Details will be announced later.

Luckman, his wife and Lady Leverhulme and her daughter, Jill Lee-Morris, will accompany the body.

Born William Hulme Lever in Bolton, Lancashire, Viscount Leverhulme inherited a prosperous soap business and built it into a quarter-billion dollar empire controlling 516 firms dealing in soap, oils and margarine in 40 countries.

We gained control of Lever Bros. in 1925 and founded Unilever. Both have an estimated valuation of $280,000,000.

He was born at St. Paul, L'Ermitte, on May 21, 1883, and was ordained a priest June 10, 1906, in Escanaba, by Bishop Eis, of the Sault Ste. Marie and Marquette Diocese. Fr. Dufort came to Newberry around the fall of 1943.

Mechanical Slaves May Run Next War

By RENNIE TAYLOR
(Associated Press Science Editor)

Berkeley, Calif., (AP)—Another war would result in the development of "mechanical slaves" which would make many types of human labor worthless, says Dr. Norbert Wiener, originator of a new idea in science.

Already science and engineering are nearer to the production of automatons than they were to the development of radar prior to the outbreak of World War II, Dr. Wiener told a news conference.

Under this new concept of industrial production robots would do much of the work now done by men on assembly lines. There mechanical slaves would take over part or all of the jobs of billing clerks and similar occupations.

Normally such an advance could not be expected for at least 25 more years, but researchers under war-time pressure could bring it about in a couple of years, Dr. Wiener asserted.

With machines doing most of the work, society then would be faced with the problem of what to do with displaced workers. Dr. Wiener said there would have to be either (A) a revaluation of man's services, or (B) the "killing" of a lot of people. This last alternative wouldn't be practical, he added.

Dr. Wiener, a professor of mathematics at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, is the sponsor of a new field of study called cybernetics. It is roughly defined as an attempt to find the factors which are common to both the human nervous system and to machines.

Once scientists get the hang of these common elements, they may be able to endow a machine with something resembling the nerves which control human muscles. The machine then would be able to do some of the things which now can be done only by human hands governed by brain and nerves.

So-called mechanical brains now duplicate some of the feats of human brains but no machine yet has been made that will match the delicate control of nerves over muscles.

Mother Hurt Saving Son In Grand Rapids

Grand Rapids, May 27 (AP)—Mrs. Leona Holland, 29, narrowly escaped death Thursday when she dashed into traffic in a downtown street to rescue her three-year-old son who had broken away from her.

She was treated at a hospital for severe throat injuries after being thrown onto the hood of a car and impaled on its ornament.

DEFEND GOLF TITLE

Ann Arbor, Mich., May 27 (AP)—Northwestern opens defense of its Western Conference golf title here today against half a dozen able contenders.

An elegant first course for company is to center a fresh fruit cup with a tiny ball of sherbet or ice. Raspberry, lemon, orange, or pineapple are all good flavors to choose for the sherbet.

It's perfectly all right to place biscuit dough in the refrigerator for several hours before using. If you follow this procedure be sure to wrap the dough tightly in waxed paper or aluminum foil.

If two glasses become stuck, ease them apart by pouring cold water in the upper glass and standing the lower glass in warm water. If a stopper sticks in a bottle, try running warm water over the bottle.

Foot Itches May Be Just Nervousness

By ARTHUR EDSON

Washington (AP)—Just because your feet itch, it's no sign that you have athlete's foot.

Maybe your feet itch because you're a nervous Nellie, or a jumpy Jack.

This is National Foot Week, and the National Association of Chiropodists tossed out a few warnings on itchy feet.

Take temperament. Dr. William J. Stickel, the association's executive secretary, says some people, the moment their feet itch, decide they have athlete's foot.

But, he said, many nervous, ill-strung people perspire freely. While they're sweating it out, they may develop blisters around their arches. If they don't get special treatment quickly, they may get an infection—and wind up in a hospital.

The things that can go wrong with your tootsies! Such as pyoderma. Scratch an insect bite, or bruise your foot, and pyoderma may move in as quickly as a poor relation at will-reading time.

Such as dyes in new socks. Some people are allergic to dyes. Others can't stand nylon or wool. Such as corns. Getting rid of corns is not enough. You must get rid of the deformity that is the corn-causer.

As one who can't read a report on any disease without instantly acquiring the same symptoms, I've had it every time since I began this item.

And I'm not helped any by this: Your feet sometimes act like danger signals. When they get sore, they're really letting you know you have bad teeth, infected tonsils, diseased kidneys or stomach trouble.

Now I ache all over.

Factional Dispute Splits State AFL

Jackson, Mich., May 27 (AP)—The Michigan Federation of Labor adjourned its 1949 state convention peacefully here today after apparently patching up a factional fight over constitutional amendments.

The convention, scheduled to close yesterday, was continued to close following last night's heated dispute over an amendment proposed from the floor that would give the secretary-treasurer wide powers of supervision over federation business.

The federation's executive board met late into the night to put down the fight and there was no evidence of it today on the convention floor.

In the end the convention, with 196 delegates at the closing session this morning, adopted all constitutional amendments as corrected Thursday by the convention.

Freak Tornado Hits South Carolina Area

Dunn, N. C., May 27 (AP)—Freakish weather swept widely separated parts of North Carolina yesterday, concentrated on the eastern portion. A tornado hit Harnett county.

A few dwellings were destroyed near Dunn, numerous farm buildings blown over, trees uprooted and power lines knocked out by the twister. No one was seriously hurt although several persons required first aid.

The tornado first hit in the East street section 10 miles east of Dunn. Three homes were destroyed there. It hit next in the Reddy Prong section, two miles away.

Grady Tart and eight members of his family were eating dinner when the roof blew off.

The wind blew in every direction, Tart said. "During the five minutes the wind lasted some members of my family were screaming and some were holding on to me."

Dickers On Coal Contract Blocked By Defiant Lewis

Bluefield, W. Va., May 27 (AP)—Southern soft coal contract talks were at a halt today, blocked for a week by the latest defiant move of John L. Lewis.

Lewis led his United Mine Workers negotiators out of the conference here yesterday after giving the Southern Coal Producers association until next Thursday to prove its bargaining authority.

"One week from today at 3 o'clock in this hall the representatives of the United Mine Workers will be back," Lewis roared. "The association needs the next week to reorganize their shattered forces or permit them to fall apart more rapidly."

The breakdown of the conference in its second day put a damper on hopes that the UMW and SCPA will agree on a new contract before the present one runs out June 30.

Berserk Son With Knife Shot Dead by Detroit Policemen

Detroit, May 27 (AP)—A young man who had threatened his parents with a knife was shot to death by police here last night.

Officers said that Henry Sawicki, 28, (28 Robinson ave. East) apparently had "gone berserk."

His father, Stanley, 54, told police that his son had been "nervous for months."

When he and Mrs. Sawicki returned home last night, he said, "Henry met us at the door with a knife in his hand." Mrs. Sawicki ran upstairs and called police, while the father locked himself in the bathroom.

Patrolmen who answered the call found the younger Sawicki brandishing two knives. He threw one of the knives and one of the officers fired. The shot passed through Sawicki's neck. He died several hours later in a hospital.

Manager of Lansing Court Accused Of Embezzling $2,313

Mason, Mich., May 27 (AP)—T. Jack Leith, Lansing municipal court manager, awaited circuit court arraignment today on embezzlement charges.

Leith waived examination yesterday when arraigned here before Justice William Seelye.

Prosecutor Charles R. MacLean obtained the warrant charging Leith with embezzlement after an audit of municipal court records showed a shortage of $2,313 in fines paid by traffic violators.

Judge Paul C. Younger said Leith, municipal court manager for the past 14 months, admitted taking the money "to meet personal obligations." Leith claimed he only took about $800, however, Younger said.

Joblessness Shoots Upward in Michigan

Detroit, (AP)—The Michigan unemployment Compensation commission announced that unemployment claims in the state have shot higher than at any time since V-J Day.

The figure for the week ending May 19 was 174,818, according to director Harry C. Markle. This is a jump from about 42,000 last November.

"There has been an almost continuous rise—with only one or two leveling off points—since November," Markle said.

Customarily employment picks up 10 to 15 per cent after the middle of April due to seasonal factors, he said. That has not happened this year. Unemployment has continued to increase.

Markle estimated total unemployment in the state at 220,000.

Defense Folds Up At Shanghai

Holed up in the buildings, they stayed at their guns long after the Reds had crossed upstream, flanked them from behind and moved through the northern part of the city after the retreating garrison.

The Nationalists stayed as long as they did because they were afraid to quit.

Trapped Civilians Freed
It was the foreigners trapped in the buildings with them who finally persuaded the last of them to give up.

Communist troops came and got them this morning. And the thousands of suddenly freed civilians—Chinese and foreign—burst out into what had been a no-man's land for 50 dangerous hours.

The number of casualties in the fighting that made a battleground out of such thoroughfares as the Bund and Peking road was not known.

Some sources put the civilian dead and wounded at less than 200—practically all Chinese. Chinese newspapers said the toll was "several hundred," most of them Nationalist soldiers.

The surrender of the last Soochow creek defenders—those holed up in the 17-story Broadway mansions and the seven-story embankment building—were amazing affairs.

In Broadway mansions, arrangements were made by Henry Topper, an Austrian with the International Refugee Organization with the aid of my wife, Margaret.

By telephone calls through Chinese interpreters they finally talked the handful of Nationalist machine gunners in the building into giving up.

"We had to convince them their officers had quit," Topper said.

Hollywood Recalls The Real Rita

By Bob Thomas

Hollywood, May 27 (AP)—What kind of girl is Prince Aly Khan marrying today?

She is a child of show business. Since she can remember, she has been aimed at stardom. She can't tell you what Disraeli said to Gladstone, but she probably can recite the figures in her pictures grossed in Des Moines.

She is not an intellectual, but she has made strides in educating herself. During her marriage to Orson Welles, a friend once observed her reading a volume on Geopolitics. She carefully circled the words she didn't understand and wrote the dictionary meanings in the margin.

She is a Liberal. This also is the Welles' influence. During the marriage she lent her name to several Liberal organizations.

She is not news-conscious, but she knows the value of publicity to her career. She is cooperative when shown the importance of an interview or picture spread. She has kept scrapbooks of everything printed about her.

She is a chain smoker, although she smokes little of a cigarette. She drinks only to be sociable.

She is loyal to her co-workers. Whenever they got in trouble with the studio, she tried to take the rap.

She is always beautiful. Publicity man George Lait once argued with Welles over drinks that she would be lovely even when waking up. They stalked up to her hotel room, roused her from a sound sleep and took a flash photo. Welles lost the argument.

For an earlier view of Rita Hayworth, I called on Laura Hollingshead-Meyer, principal of her junior high school.

"I remember Rita as a roly-poly little girl with two long, black pigtails hanging down her back," said the retired educator.

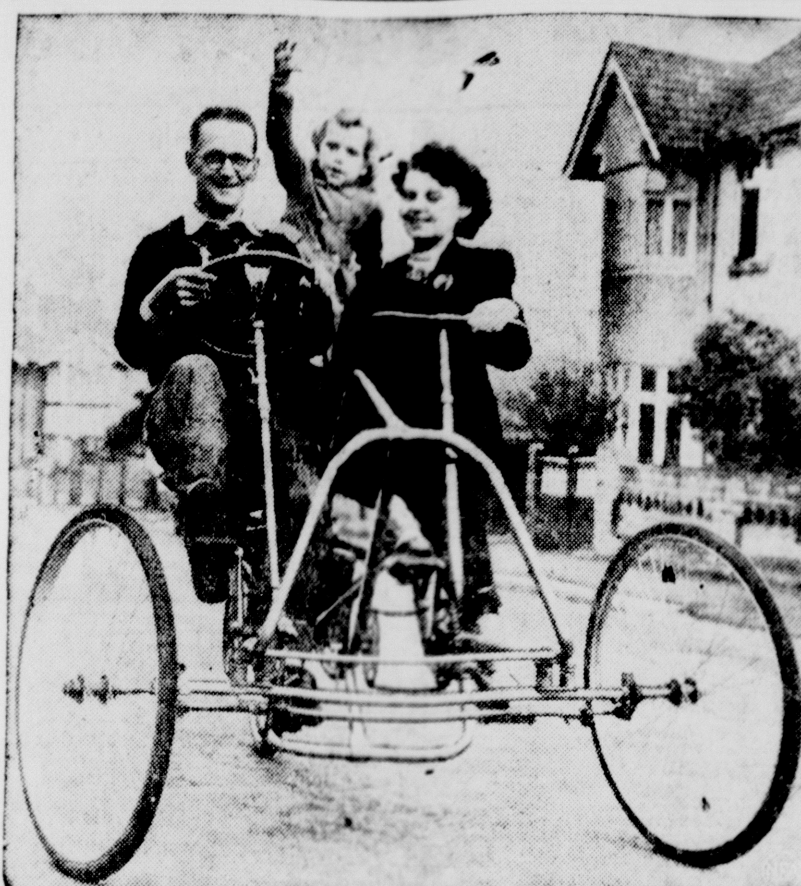

Kindness Characteristic
"Mr. and Mrs. Casino would bring her and the two sons to school every morning, and their airdale, Chico, would come, too. When school was out, one of the parents would come for the children and take them to the dance studio, where the family would stay and have dinner."

"Rita was one of the kindest, most motherly girls I ever knew. Whenever anyone on the playground fell and hurt himself, Rita would bring him to the office to be bandaged. I hope people will realize the other, human side of Rita."

"As a student? Well, she did the best she could, which wasn't too good. She was a good C student, but she wasn't very apt at something that required thought."

Miss Meyer admitted she never would have imagined that little Marguerita Casino would some day marry a prince.

'Orphan' Pro Is Medalist In PGA Golf Tournament

Richmond, Va., May 27 (AP)—Ray Wade Hill, an unknown "orphan" golfer, professional from Shreveport, La., set out today to conquer a jinx which has dogged the medalist year after year through the history of the PGA.

Hill walked off with medalist honors in the thirty-first tournament yesterday by touring the 6,677-yard Hermitage Country club layout in four-under-par 67 for a 36-hole qualifying round of 136—two strokes over the medal record. Only twice since they started giving the Alex Smith Memorial award in 1931 to the PGA medalist has the star who carded the best score in the qualifying play managed to take home the crown at the close of match competition. Olin Dutra turned the trick in 1932. Byron Nelson, co-medalist with Johnny Revolta in 1945, also was around at the finish.

A single stroke behind Hill in the wild scramble for medalist laurels was Slammin' Sammy Snead, the long-driving Masters champion from White Sulphur Springs, W. Va. Snead played the back nine in three-under-par 32 yesterday for a 36-hole total of 137.

Another unknown like Hill, Howard Schmidt, of Chico, Calif., finished the qualifying with a 138 as did Clayton Heafner of Charlotte, N. C., and Johnny Palmer of Badin, N. C. George Fazio of Conshohocken, Pa., had a 139.

Today's first round of match play included 64 players with qualifying 36-hole scores of 149 or better. Three of them, including Horton Smith of Detroit, had to earn their berths in a "sudden death" playoff involving six players.

After 32 matches this morning and 16 this afternoon, the field will be reduced to 16 aces who will fight it out in 36-hole matches until the champion is crowned Tuesday afternoon.

Northwestern Leads In Big Ten Tennis

Evanston, Ill., May 27 (AP)—Northwestern led the field with 10 points today in the 39th annual Big Ten tennis championship tournament.

Northwestern, defending champion, won its six singles and three doubles matches yesterday to notch its 10 points.

Michigan, which earlier this season downed the Wildcats from Evanston, 7 to 0, in a dual match, was runnerup with eight points. Wisconsin and Indiana were tied for third with 4½ points.

Other point scores were Minnesota 4; Illinois and Ohio State 3½; Iowa 2; and Purdue 0.

Andy Paton, Michigan defender in his first round match, from Bill Rogers, Wisconsin, 7-5, 7-5. Paton and his Michigan mate, Bill Mikulich, began defense of their doubles crown with a 6-1; 7-5, victory over Arnold Evelstein and Dave Klenzli, Ohio State.
